Foreword by Geraldine Allen
Safeguarding Co-ordinator for the Diocese of Westminster

Dear PSR,

Welcome to our Winter edition.
The SG Team has welcomed new staff: Johanna Ashley joined mid-2019 to support Jackie and Rebecca Williams and Sarah Robinson are our new SG officers. They started in December. Their additions are a valuable increase in our capacity to respond to disclosures of abuse, request for support and DBS processing.
The IICSA inquiry has enabled us to critically reflect on our practice and learn lessons about improving our response to survivors. This remains at the core of our safeguarding work.
Wishing you all the very best.
Geraldine Allen

IN THIS EDITION

As Christmas approaches we bring you another newsletter packed with useful information to support you in the role as PSRs (Parish Safeguarding Reps) across the many parishes and ethnic chaplaincies of Westminster Diocese.

Advice related to children and young people can be found in the EduCare and Safeguarding sections which provide us with an additional perspective in the interpretation of negative influences in young people’s lives and how these affect them in order to help them better.

Since we approach the end of the year, you can find in the Safeguarding and PSRs’ pages a summary of the main projects and events that have started in 2019 and will continue throughout 2020.

Pope Francis dedicates a video message to all young people who are entitled to safe and joyful present and future.

Your generous support is an essential contribution that ensures the wellbeing and safety of all our communities; it represents a renovated Christmas gift to be enjoyed during the course of the approaching New Year.

THANK YOU and MERRY CHRISTMAS!
THE 4 AREAS OF A PSR’s WORK

This year we outlined 4 areas of a PSR’s work in a new paper emailed to you all with the aim to offer a more structured approach and some additional clear guidance and support about the tasks that a PSR should carry out at their parishes. These are:

- RESPONDING TO CONCERNS
  PSRs are the first point of contact for the parish community should they wish to disclose a safeguarding concern hence the PSR is responsible to check their dedicated SG email address on a regular basis and at least once a week. Should PSRs become aware of any concern they have to pass this on to the central safeguarding team within the first 24/48 hours of learning about the concern. This is a vital area of work in order to assure an appropriate response to anyone in need of support. The email address can also be set up on the PSR’s mobile phone as long as this is secured with safety access codes at all times to enhance third parties’ data protection.

- SAFE RECRUITMENT
  The process of securely recruiting anyone who wish to work/volunteer in the parishes with groups of vulnerable like children and/or adults at risk. This process includes the initial processing of DBS applications including ID verification, interviews, and reference requests for example.

- CREATING A SAFE ENVIRONMENT
  An incredibly important part of a PSR’s work to be carried out with the collaboration of parish priests, activity group leaders, parish admins and any volunteer in contact with vulnerable groups. It is about knowing and implementing both safeguarding policies and procedures whenever a parish activity especially for children and/or adults at risk takes place. CSAS (Catholic Safeguarding Advisory Services) is the web site to visit and the guidance “Creating a safer environment” should be a central piece of this work with which every person working/volunteering at the parish should be familiar with. This includes use of social media, photographing and videoing, off-site trips, bullying and more. https://www.csas.uk.net/procedures-manual/#cat-4 Please click on the link to be directed on the page where to find the above mentioned guidance (Procedures Manual – Chapter 4, Creating a safer environment).

- ADVANCING A “CULTURE OF SAFEGUARDING”
  This part of the work aims at educating the parish communities with a basic understanding of what safeguarding means and does to keep everybody safe from harm and abuse. PSRs should encourage the community to enrol in SG EduCare online modules by contacting Mr Gabriele Sedda at gabrielesedda@rcdow.org.uk to be registered and start/complete these safeguarding courses. Also safeguarding literature should be regularly distributed in the parish. This ranges from leaflets to support survivors of abuse to Alpha Cards to recognise and responding to abuse and more. A so called “safeguarding corner” in the parishes consisting of a small table to keep the literature would be ideal.

In this and all future editions of the newsletter we add in green the PSR’s area of work for each page concerned with one of these 4 areas in order to easily associate them accordingly.

Also, here you can find the document originally distributed via email about the 4 areas of work which contains all the useful links to practically support you in the implementation of the 4 areas of work.

The central safeguarding team remains always available for any additional assistance you may require at any time.

REFRACT THE BLAME

EDUCATION CHARITIES & COMMUNITY GROUPS 23rd October 2019

We’re working on a campaign to raise awareness of why children and young people may behave in a certain way and how understanding exploitation is key to better safeguarding.

What does ‘Reframe the blame’ mean? When children and young people are involved in criminal activity, such as dealing drugs, or carrying weapons, it is important to look beyond blame and consider how exploitation could be a contributing factor. Reframing the blame will ask why these challenges are happening and what is at play in a young person’s life to influence this. When reframing the blame, practitioners will shift the focus away from implying that a young person has given full consent or has a choice.

Vulnerabilities and risk factors Reframing the blame means educators and professionals will understand that there are vulnerabilities and risk factors in a young person’s life that can lead to issues such as criminal exploitation and consequent displays of serious youth violence. These include, but are not limited to, a lack of a safe home environment, adverse childhood experiences, exclusion from mainstream education, economic vulnerability, learning difficulties, mental health issues and close proximity to gang or serious organised crime group-affected areas and county lines. Whilst all young people are ‘vulnerable’ to exploitation, reframing the blame will mean practitioners will understand that an individual affected by one or more of these vulnerabilities is particularly at risk of being targeted for exploitation and groomed, and so cannot consent to serious behaviours.

The importance of language The campaign urges professionals and others to consider the language used when referring to young people and the behaviours they display. For example, the language used to describe young people and the groups or ‘gangs’ they ‘associate’ with will need to be carefully re-considered. Language that implies the child or young person is to blame and does not recognise the exploitation that is potentially at play, should not be used. As well as avoiding victim-blaming language, practitioners should also challenge any normalization of violence amongst young people and the glamorisation of violence. The support on offer should not place the responsibility of these behaviours with the young person.

Understanding exploitation leads to improved safeguarding Schools have a part to play in reframing the blame and informing a more effective safeguarding response. Schools have a wealth of insight and knowledge that can be shared with other professionals, as well as raising awareness of local safeguarding issues among both parents and children. Crucially, reframing the blame means practitioners understand that victims may have been criminally exploited even if the activity appears consensual. EduCare, and the Reframe the Blame campaign, make it clear that no child can consent to their own exploitation.
SAFE RECRUITMENT:

DBS Matters

References
References should be requested at the parish by the activity group leader or PSR. The references must be checked at the parish access the applicant’s suitability before sending all the Safer Recruitment forms to the Safeguarding Office. Please include the role description when sending out a reference request; role descriptions and guidance on how to create one, can be found at https://safeguardrcdow.org.uk/safer-recruitment/roledescriptions/.

ID verification – Birth and Marriage Certificates
Please note that only birth and marriage certificates issued in the UK, Isle of Man and Channel Islands can be used as one of the three Route 1 ID documents. Foreign equivalents (including Ireland), can only be used as proof of name change, so must only be accepted in addition to the three documents that show the applicants current name, date of birth and current address.

Clergy DBS Re-checks
A quick reminder that Clergy are not volunteers, therefore the Volunteer Registration form and References are not needed for their applications.

Applicant Address History
A reminder that DBS will withdraw any applications if there are any errors in the 5-year address history. As a result, please ensure that you double check that the applicant has entered all addresses fully during the ID verification process, this is particularly important when the applicant lives in a flat – the flat number can be added manually if it doesn't appear after the postcode search.

<tr>
<td>Q: How can we appoint a new PSR?</td>
<td>A: Every time a PSR steps down from their role or the parish wishes to appoint an additional PSR, the parish priest should advertise the role in various ways that range from a note on the parish notice board and the newsletter to short talks to the parish community after masses on a given weekend and again on the parish website and more modern means like social media pages (if this applies) or in the old fashion way of having a chat with someone thought to be a suitable candidate. Once the candidates have been identified, the parish priest should kindly forward details to Arianna Sommariva at ariannasommariva@rcdow.org.uk who will start the safe recruitment process of the candidates immediately. Arianna can also be contacted for more information regarding how the PSR’s appointment process works, a role description and what this involves.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Q: My parish priest would like to develop a new parish activity involving children aged 12–15. Where can I find guidance about good practice?</td>
<td>A: Guidance about good practice, risk assessment and more related to the development and implementation of existing or new activity at the parish involving children and/or young people can be found on the CSAS (Catholic Safeguarding Advisory Services) and the essential paper to download/print is under the “Procedures Manual” section, Chapter 4 – Creating a safer environment – where many of the information required are. Please see the link here https://www.csas.uk.net/procedures-manual/#cat-4. Every person who works/volunteer with vulnerable groups should be knowledgeable about this guide and have it handy for consultation at all times. Should you find any difficulties locating this guide please do contact Arianna for further assistance.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Q: How often should the PSR meet with the parish priest and activity group leaders to discuss and update about safeguarding matters in the parish/chaplaincy?</td>
<td>A: PSRs and other relevant parties who are especially involved in activities with groups of children and/or adults at risk should meet regularly to discuss and update on all safeguarding matters at the parish/chaplaincy. The frequency depends by the size of your parish and the number of activities that take place in relation to safeguarding however meeting every 6/8 weeks would be a good way to maintain a regular and open channel of communication to ensure that everyone shares important safeguarding information and updates and that everyone follows and implements appropriate SG policies and procedures at all times.</td>

PARISHES

- SAFEGUARDING IN OUR PARISHES PAGE:
  Every parish diocesan website has now been equipped with a new tab titled “SAFEGUARDING IN OUR PARISHES” (bottom left of the landing page). The page informs virtually anyone potentially from anywhere around the world with an internet access, about the safeguarding policies, procedures and structure of the diocese of Westminster and it is a very helpful tool to support anyone who wishes to learn more about the catholic church approach in safeguarding. The key people to contact in case of questions, concerns are available on this page too.
  Here is an example of how the tab looks like, taken from Abbots Langley parish which is the first parish in alphabetical order in the Westminster Year Book 2020. Please click on the link to explore the page/tab. https://parish.rcdow.org.uk/abbotslangley/diocese/safeguarding-in-our-parishes/

Pope's December prayer intention:

The future of the very young

Pope Francis on Thursday released a video message accompanying his prayer intention for December, which this month is "The future of the very young".

In his prayer intention for the month of December 2019, Pope Francis calls us to pray that every country decides to take necessary measures to make the future of children a priority, especially the future of children who are suffering today.

It has become the custom of Pope Francis to release a video message detailing his prayer intention for each month.

The full text of his intention is below:

Every child who is marginalized, abused, abandoned, without schooling, or without medical care, is a cry that rises up to God.

In each of them is Christ, who came to our world as a defenseless child; it is Christ who looks at us through the eyes of each of these children.

Let us prayer that every country decides to take necessary measures to make the future of children a priority, especially the future of children who are suffering today.
